

G'day Reader,

Thanks for taking the trouble to read this newsletter.

The feedback on our short series on bankruptcy was quite complimentary. The attached cartoon our final contribution to the subject. In the rest of this issue we have some excess nylon insert nuts to clear and we announce the winner of our ashes first test

picking competition

First Ashes Test Tipping Competition

Congratulations to Justin from Newcastle Hi-Tensile who won our first tipping competition. His pick of 282 runs was the closest to Australia's first innings score. We did not have time to run a competition for the 2nd test as the games were back to back. Just as well, who would have wanted to pick the Australian team to score 128 runs to win a carton of beer? In a sign of the times 70% tipped England to win. That would not have happened four years ago.

We will be running a competition for the 5th test

Surplus stock

Don't ask how, but we have over ten years stock of Grade 8 5/8 UNF nylon insert nuts. To bring the stock levels back to a more realistic level we are offering them at $22.55/100 That is lower than the normal Grade 5 5/8 UNF nut price. Sell them as grade 5 or run a promotion to convert users to grade 8 nylon insert nuts. If you want some assistance with technical information to push grade 8 nylon insert nuts then please contact us at marketing@Holdite.com.au

We are still keen to see your specials enquiries. Anything with a thread would be a good description. External or internal up to 100mm (4") diameter. From a one off to unlimited quantities please send us your enquiries.
